A

Li Ming's class planned a clean-up day at the city park. On Saturday morning, twenty students met at the park gate at eight o'clock. Mr. Wang, their teacher, gave everyone a pair of gloves and a bag. The students picked up bottles, paper and plastic bags along the lake. At noon they had a picnic under the big trees. In the afternoon, some park workers showed them how to sort the rubbish into four kinds. Li Ming said, "I never knew that old batteries need a special box." Before they left, the students put up a sign: "Keep our park clean!"
